

40 MM MGL-140

TACTICAL FLEXIBILITY FOR THE WARFIGHTER

The MGL-140 is designed as an area weapon with a high rate of fire. Six 40mm caliber grenades can be fired in 3 seconds at ranges of up to 400 meters, effectively covering a minimum area of 20 x 60 meters. It can also be used in pin point situations at up to 150 meters.

It is tested and qualified according to MIL-STDs. The concept has been proven in crowd control, peace keeping missions and even combat situations in several countries.

It is now manufactured, sold and supported in the USA under international license by Milkor USA.

The MGL-140 features a stainless steel frame and a Picatinny sight rail. The sight base provides rapid range adjustment and compensates automatically for the drift of the grenades. The reflex sight provides full night time capability and the grid reticule allows quick aiming point adjustment and range estimation.

It also features a MIL-STD-1913 compatible accessory mount with four mounting surfaces.

The modular butt-stock is retractable and padded to further enhance operational capability.

The MGL140 has a chamber length of 140mm and is specifically designed for specialized non-lethal missions by peacekeeping forces, for crowd control operations and for point duties. It also affords the Warfighter maximum choice in tactical application since both lethal and non-lethal ammunition can be fired from the same launcher.
